

HIGHLIGHT

KIOS CoE Director awarded prestigious ERC Synergy Grant – The 1st for Cyprus

The KIOS Research and Innovation Center of Excellence at the University of Cyprus has secured a highly competitive ERC Synergy Grant for the research project “Water-Futures”, totaling 10 million euros, with Professor Marios Polycarpou, Director of KIOS CoE, as the corresponding Principal Investigator.

[\[Read More\]](#)

The KIOS CoE hosts 4 Post-Doctoral researchers who were awarded Marie Curie Fellowships

Four talented researchers have been awarded prestigious Research Fellowships through the EU Marie Skłodowska Curie Action Grants (MSCA) to undertake research at the KIOS Research and Innovation Center of Excellence at the University of Cyprus (KIOS CoE).

[\[Read More\]](#)

New Projects

New project PathoCERT: Pathogen Contamination Emergency Response Technologies

During emergency response operations, first responders are at risk of being exposed to dangerous pathogens (such as norovirus, e. coli and v. cholerae) through skin contact, ingestion or inhalation. Such pathogens pose a significant risk of illness, disease or even death.

[\[Read More\]](#)

NEW EU project to transform the European Electrical Network

The KIOS Research and Innovation Center of Excellence is participating in an innovative research project, titled "OneNet: One Network for Europe", funded by the EU under the Horizon 2020 program.

[\[Read More\]](#)

The AIRMOS project by KIOS CoE wins the 2020 “Invest in the Commercialization of Entrepreneurship” Award

The project “AIRMOS - Artificially Intelligent Real-Time Drone Monitoring Tactics to Safeguard Sensitive Facilities”, by the KIOS Research and Innovation Center of Excellence (KIOS CoE) at the University of Cyprus was awarded the 2020 “Invest in the Commercialization of Entrepreneurship” award.

[\[Read More\]](#)

Applications are now open for the MSc Program in Intelligent Critical Infrastructure Systems

Master of Science in INTELLIGENT CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE SYSTEMS

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering of the University of Cyprus, in collaboration with the KIOS Research and Innovation Center of Excellence and Imperial College London, accepts applications for the MSc Program in Intelligent Critical Infrastructure Systems. For the academic year 2021-2022, five merit-based scholarships will be offered to successful applicants accepted to the program, to cover 50% of their tuition fees.

[\[Read More\]](#)

The KIOS CoE research & innovation showcase at the ONLINE European Researchers’ Night in Cyprus

This year the European Researchers’ Night was held online and according to the organizer the Research and Innovation Foundation, the number of visitors exceeded all expectations. The public had the opportunity to connect and engage with scientists and uncover cutting-edge research in the area of monitoring, control and management of critical infrastructure systems.

[\[Read More\]](#)

Keep in touch with us!

The KIOS CoE project has received funding from the European Union’s Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 739551 (KIOS CoE).

The KIOS CoE has received funding from the Government of the Republic of Cyprus through the Directorate General for European Programmes, Coordination and Development.

Complementary funding for the KIOS CoE is also provided by the University of Cyprus and Imperial College London